ISSUE DATE
17th March 2023

You may have noticed that we have had landscapers on site for a few weeks now. They are in the process of creating a memorial garden in memory of Mrs Wilson, a member of staff who sadly passed away in 2021. The memorial garden is expected to be completed when we return from our Easter break. The children will be using the garden as an outdoor learning area. Keep your eye peeled for pictures.

Attendance Matters

Please remember that it is your responsibility to call or report your child's absence to the school on the day of your child's absence by 8:45am at the latest. It is very important for safeguarding reasons that we know a child is safe at home with parents if they are not in school. It is taking a considerable amount of time for the office team to call and check on absences at the moment.

Illness:

We understand that attendance levels can be affected by illness, particularly colds and sickness bugs. We would encourage parents to send their children to school where possible. However, if your child has any sickness or diarrhoea, please keep them at home for 48 hours following their last episode of sickness. If your child has a high temperature, please keep them home until it has gone.

Ash 91.1%	Willow 92.2%	Acer 92.7%
Fir 92.9%	Yew 89.9%	Bonsai 89.4%
Oak 89.9%	Maple 87.1%	Hawthorn 87.1%
Lime 87.0%	Poplar 94.8%	Sequoia 90.4%
Birch 98.3%		Sycamore 94.4%
Palm 86.7%

Every Minute Counts! Lateness = Lost Learning

Punctuality:

It is important that your child arrives at school on time. This helps them learn good timekeeping and reduces the chance of classroom disruption and possible feelings of embarrassment. Pupils who arrive after the registers have been closed, either in the morning or the afternoon, without an acceptable explanation or children who are regularly late will be marked as unauthorised absence.

Safeguarding & Online Safety

Top Tips for Adopting SAFE & HEALTHY ONLINE HABITS

Everyone has so much going on in their lives, and that includes children from exams and deadlines to anxiety and mental health struggles. It's time only to send research that says you're not alone about the things that stress us, that stress us the least time you... on your mind. It's time to start something that's positive instead. In fact, when did you last stop and think about your health, your happiness, your energy, your focus, your mood, your health, your focus, your need to develop our children's digital resilience? There are lots of ways that children can become more resilient to these online risks and digital dangers. Here are some good digital strategies to try.

WHAT IS DIGITAL RESILIENCE?

Resilience doesn't mean being so tough that nothing gets to you and it's a lot like putting up with things and recovering from setbacks. Everyone faces risk, setbacks, and setbacks in life. It's how we respond and cope with these situations which is important. Digital resilience is about making choices that help us stay safe and happy online, even when we're not. Building your child's digital resilience will help reduce the impact of potential risks on their progress with and navigate around the online world.

REACH OUT FOR SUPPORT

- If you have a problem online, don't be afraid to ask for help. Someone that could help.
- Follow people on social media who have the same values and interests as you.
- You could always talk to a friend, or a trusted adult like a teacher or family member for some advice.

PUT SAFETY FIRST

- If you see something online that seems odd or scary, tell a trusted adult.
- You should also report the content that is making you feel uncomfortable to the site or app that you're using it on, so they can look into it.
- Another option is to block the person or the account that you could go any further by notifying the app you were using.

GET THINGS CLEAR IN YOUR HEAD

- Ask yourself what someone online actually says. Are they someone you know or someone you don't know?
- Think about how it makes you feel or how someone gets you a positive message online.
- What about the opposite? Has someone ever been deliberately unkind to you online? What did they do and how did it make you feel?
- If someone's behaviour online is causing you stress, try to find yourself of all the things you can take in a person's being unkind online.

MAKE POSITIVE CHOICES

- Make time for the people and things that make you happy.
- Monitor your screen time and stick to your limits.
- On social media, follow people that make you feel good about yourself – and unfollow the ones who don't.
- Support someone positively: give good reviews, leave encouraging comments and share good ideas.

KEEP YOUR HEALTH IN MIND

- Try to factor in regular breaks offline and away from your screen – think of a reward for when you do.
- Sometimes a brilliant sleep – even a walk around the block or take the dog or a stroll to your local shop can really work wonders.
- Use time when you're not putting devices away in plenty of time to get a good night's sleep, which is essential for staying healthy.
